Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports Parent Handbook

The Four B's

The Behavior Curriculum was developed by the PBIS Team. The curriculum highlights specific behavioral expectations in all areas of the school including: instructional areas, hallways, cafeteria, recess, assemblies, bathrooms, and buses. We hope to bring a consistent level of effort towards these "Four B's" to ALL areas of the school, ALL of the time.

This curriculum is based on three main ideas:

1. Children need to know what is expected of them.
2. Children need to be directly taught the correct way to behave.
3. The correct behavior needs to be encouraged and acknowledged.

The Four B's

Be Safe

Be Respectful

Be Responsible

Be Kind

PBIS Student Recognition Plan

This year we look forward to several exciting ways to recognize, reinforce, and monitor positive student behavior.

Verbal Reinforcement

Once a behavior is taught, the student needs to be motivated to use this new behavior in place of the less appropriate behavior. Reinforcement will be provided through positive feedback from all adults with whom the student interacts. This positive feedback will take many forms. For example, if a child is following the rule "Be Safe," a teacher may say, "I like the way you are staying safe by walking to line-up." This lets the child know s/he is following the rule.

In addition, we may remind or preset the students about certain rules: "Before we line-up to go to lunch, let's review how we follow the "Four B's" in the hallway." This helps the students to remember the rules.

Scottie Bucks

Scottie Bucks will be used to acknowledge appropriate student behavior. If any staff member sees any student acting appropriately, they may give a student a Scottie Buck. When a new rule or skill is being introduced, staff will acknowledge students demonstrating the rule frequently by giving them a Scottie Buck and verbally expressing exactly what they are doing (being safe, respectful, responsible, or kind).

These "bucks" will accumulate and all students will be allowed to "purchase" a variety of items. Examples may include: lunch or game with staff member, extra recess, items from prize box (i.e. erasers, pencils), etc. There is also a monthly raffle they can participate in.

Dignity for All Students Act and PBIS

PBIS helps to support the Dignity Act which states that all students in public schools are afforded an environment free of discrimination and harassment.

- The Dignity Act promotes civility and creates a safe nurturing environment
- Instruction includes honesty, tolerance, personal responsibility, respect for others, observance of laws, courtesy and dignity to include all:
  - Races
  - Weights
  - National origins
  - Ethnic groups
  - Religions
  - Religious practices
  - Mental or physical abilities
  - Sexual orientation
  - Gender identity
  - Sexes
- Students are expected to behave in a way that reflects The Dignity Act and PBIS at all times. This includes:
  - School buildings
  - Athletic fields
  - Playground
  - Parking lot
  - School Buses
  - Extra-curricular events and activities
